The Scranton Foot Ball team will meet for practice at the ball park this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Three new cases of typhoid fever and four cases of diphtheria were reported the board of health yesterday.

A new electric clock was yesterday placed in the waiting room of the new Delaware and Hudson depot.

The new Parker street bridge will be closed today while the planing is being laid; then it will be practically completed.

The Scranton and Wyoming Seminary foot ball teams will play a game of foot ball at the ball park at 4:15 Saturday afternoon.

A meeting of the Moody Mission executive committee will be held in the gospel tent, Linden street, at the conclusion of the service this evening.

A regular meeting of the auditing committee was held last night at the city hall when several accounts were passed. No business of public interest occurred.

The funeral of Roy, the infant son of Thomas Conrad, of 1025 Diamond avenue, took place yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Hyde Park cemetery.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Green Ridge Baptist church, of Monsey avenue, is making extensive preparations for their supper this evening. First tables will be ready at 6 o'clock.

the Jersey Central railroad to Reading on Oct. 10 to witness the initiation of twenty candidates and participate in a Mystic Shrine banquet and social affair at the Hotel Penn. District Passenger Agent Swisher will accompany the party, of which the following is a partial list: George M. Head, Fred S. Soud, F. K. White, of the Wyoming; C. M. Truman, of the Westminister; Thomas Moore, Dr. G. E. Hill, T. Filicraft, H. D. Judd, of Finton; and M. H. Burgander, G. Taylor, Griffin and Frens Rogart, of Wilkes-Barre.

At the Theaters.

Pauline Hall and her excellent company of singers delighted a fair-sized audience at the Academy of Music last evening in "Dorcas." The morale of the plot might be considered too piquant for many senses, but the opera was presented with costly and exquisite costumes and the singers individually were artists of rare merit.

The piece is a happy creation of the Paultons, who composed "Ermine" and "Niobe," two of the New York Casino's greatest successes. The stereotyped "peasants, guards and courtiers," were conspicuously by their absence, which of course reduces expenses and permits of extravagant staging. The company numbered but eleven artists. Miss Hall seemed to have lost none of her old time vocal sweetness and personal attractiveness. The company contains a pretty and winsome member in Mrs. St. Henry. All the artists, particularly William Broderick and James Libby, are deserving of meritorious comment upon their singing and acting. Charles Bradshaw, as the envying inn keeper, Mugby, gave one of the best and truest interpretations of comedy character acting seen here this season.

This evening at the Academy of Music "The Brooklyn Handicap" will be given in this city for the first time. The Philadelphia Press says of it: "This thoroughly logical and bright play abounds with subtle little touches. In all likelihood no better east could have been secured, and the characters all have considerable execution." The play will be presented here with the same strong cast.

At the Frothingham tonight the London Sports Bar Entertainment company will appear. It is composed of thirty people, sixteen of whom are comedians, ten handsome lady singers and dancers and four serious persons. They give an up-to-date, end-of-the-century, high-class vaudeville entertainment.

"The Dazzler" which will be seen at the Academy of Music Friday night, has been rewritten and is more entertaining than ever. The company that produces it is an excellent one.

"The Burglar" promises to draw another crowded house to the Frothingham Friday night. It is an exceedingly clever drama and is presented by a superb company.

Change of bill today at Davis' theater. Be sure and see the new attraction. For the remainder of the week "Our Irish Visitors" will be given.

"Wife for Wife," which will be given at the Academy of Music Saturday night, the Philadelphia North American says: "It was a thoroughly praiseworthy performance, and some of the participants acquitted themselves with a high degree of creditability. The play, an exciting and diverting, and deals with the human passions of love, jealousy and revenge."

"The Amazons" is at present the most popular comedy in America. If you do not believe it just go to the Academy of Music Monday night and see for yourself. The play made New Yorkers laugh for five months. Charles Frohman, under whose management it is given, has exercised great care in selecting the cast. Here are the names, which speak for themselves: Johnstone Bennett, Isabel Irving, Elaine Gibson, Ida Vernon, Louise Rial, Beaumont Smith, George Alison, Lorimer Stoddard, John Findley, V. Glasser, W. S. Holmes and A. W. Gregory.

Roland Reed will produce "The Politician" as a benefit for the Elks at the Academy of Music next Wednesday night.

HONORING THE POET. Entertainment to be given by the Epworth League tonight.

This evening the Epworth league of the Elm Park church will give an entertainment commemorative of the eighty-five years of usefulness of Oliver Wendell Holmes. The following programs will be rendered:

Song Service, Conducted by the Chorister Miss Jennie Haslett, Accompanist. Prayer, Rev. H. Horna Singing, "Always Abounding"

Business Session. Announced by W. A. May G. F. Whittemore, President Bass Solo, Richard Thomas "The Epworth Advance," "Autocrat"

Memorial Service, Read by W. H. Peck Introduced by Miss Alice Griffiths, Sixth Vice President. Soprano Solo, Miss Garagan "The One Hope," Miss Garagan

Read by Mrs. A. R. Whitmore Introduced by B. B. Hicks, First Vice President. "The Last Leaf," Recited by Howard Vail. Introduced by D. T. York, Second Vice President.

Bass Solo, Richard Thomas "The Old Man Dreams," Recited by Miss Lillian Miles, Introduced by A. J. Baswell, Fifth Vice President. "The Boys," Recited by Charles W. Dawson. Introduced by Miss Lillian Raub, Fourth Vice President.

Soprano Solo, Miss Garagan Greeting from the "Autocrat of the Americas," Recited by H. H. Biddleman, Third Vice President. "A Parting Thought," Benediction, By Rev. W. H. Pearce, Pastor.

FIRE DID NOT INTERFERE. H. Langfeld Will Have a Millinery Opening for Three Days. It is much to the credit of H. Langfeld, successor to Haselbacher's millinery, that this establishment will have its fall opening notwithstanding the recent Lackawanna avenue fire, which damaged his old stock considerably. With an enterprise entitled to commendation a new stock complete in all branches has been secured.

The opening will be held during today, tomorrow and Saturday, when will be displayed the latest novelties from London and Paris, and domestic goods. Many ladies will no doubt take advantage of this opportunity.

PLANS OF CAMPAIGNS

Manner in Which the Parties Will Wage War for Success in November.

MEETINGS ARE BEING HELD

Republican Speakers Addressing the Voters of the County on the Issues of the Day—Big Ratification Meeting in the Frothingham Next Tuesday Night—General Hastings to Visit the City.

The tickets of the Republican and Democratic parties, state and county, are now completed and the fight is now on in earnest. In the county club rooms of the central club the Republican county committee has opened headquarters in charge of the affable secretary, W. S. Miller, which are visited daily by scores of Republicans from all parts of the county, who manifest the greatest interest in the contest for the ticket in all quarters. It is recognized as a winner everywhere.

The campaign is now well under way and public meetings are being held at which the issues at the campaign are intelligently and dispassionately discussed and the voter allowed to make his own deductions. At Throp on Tuesday night a large meeting was held under the auspices of the Republican club of that place, which was addressed by John R. Jones, candidate for district attorney. It was very enthusiastic demonstration. Tomorrow night Mr. J. Warren and W. S. Miller will deliver addresses before the John R. Jones club, of Peckville.

MEETING AT TOMPKINSVILLE. Saturday night a big meeting will be held at Tompkinsville by the citizens of Greenfield, Scott and Benton townships to ratify the congressional and county nominations. It will be addressed by Galusha A. Grow and John R. Jones.

At Old Forge on Oct. 1 there will be another big meeting, at which Mayor Connell and others will speak. Next Tuesday evening at the Frothingham the campaign in this city will be formally opened by a monster mass meeting under the auspices of the Central Republican club. E. P. Kingsbury, president of the club, will preside, and the nomination of the various candidates be ratified. George B. Orady, of Huntington, one of the most eminent campaign speakers of the party in the state; Lynn Harzgraf, of Philadelphia, son of ex-governor Harzgraf, and other distinguished speakers will address the meeting. There will be a reception afterwards at the Club rooms, Price building, to the candidates.

On the platform during the meeting will be seated the speakers, candidates, officers of Central Republican club and members of the county committee. Members of the Central Republican club are requested to call on Secretary Miller and get their tickets for this meeting.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED. Although this meeting is under the auspices of the Central Republican club it is in no sense merely a meeting of that organization. It is a demonstration to which the public generally is invited and promises to be one of the most notable political meetings of recent years in this city. On Oct. 22 General Hastings will address a mass meeting in this city and give a demonstration worthy of the "Hero of the Conemaugh."

The Democratic executive committee, under the direction of County Chairman John E. Roeb, is planning a campaign which will be one of the most systematic in the history of the party in this county. A full auxiliary committee made up of one to three prominent Democrats from each election district in the county has been appointed, who will be expected to carry out the plans formulated by the county committee. Public meetings will be held nightly in all parts of the county. The People's party managers also declare that they will wage a determined campaign, and the hustlings will nightly proclaim the beauties of the populist theories.

CAMPAIGN OF PROHIBITIONISTS. Leaders of the Prohibition movement hereabouts say that their campaign will be conducted along new lines this year. The county will be canvassed by districts, and by means of literature and personal solicitation, an effort made to roll up a bigger vote than was ever cast before in this county for a Prohibition candidate.

TO MAKE FLINT GLASS. New Furnace Will be Tested at the Green Ridge Glass Works Today.

The Scranton glass works on Green Ridge street, have been shut down since July 1. This unusual stoppage at this work was not commenced until Sept. 1. Glass blowers, like school children, are at leisure in July and August. The Scranton glass works did not resume on Sept. 1. There are two causes for the failure of the works to resume on Sept. 1. The market is very sluggish and prices are at rock bottom. Between men and boys 425 hands are usually employed at the Green Ridge works.

The management has notified the glass blowers that they must accept a 14 per cent. reduction, and the latter have returned to work in this term. But it is only the glass blowers that the cut applies to; the wages of the rest of the employees will not be disturbed. Notwithstanding that they have agreed to work at reduced wages, the works have not been started up.

The article of glass manufactured now is the green and enamel quality, for the bottling and rougher trade. A furnace has been built that will produce flint glass for the manufacture of a finer grade of glassware, such as druggists' supplies, hotel supplies, lamp chimneys and window glass. Today an experiment with this furnace will be made; if it proves satisfactory this new department for glass manufacture will be opened and the works will resume all around.

WORK OF THE EVANGELIST. Reaching Out After the Masses of the People. Yesterday was a busy one with Evangelist Schiverra. At noon he read a large audience at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western car shops and was ably assisted by W. Weeden, who sang a new solo, "Dare to Say No," recently composed by Tallie Morgan. Mr. Schiverra delivered a powerful address on David's last word to Solomon, "Show thyself a man."

A striking incident of the influence of the evangelist was afforded by the action of one of the men who heard his gospel address on Friday and who went home after the meeting and bored a hole in a barrel of wine, the rosy liquid going to waste down the sewer.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Schiverra concluded a Bible reading, "What is Consecration?" and his many telling points in his running commentary were highly appreciated. The Gospel tent was packed again in the evening, when Mr. Schiverra delivered another of his powerful addresses.

A FINE CROCKERY STORE. Such an Establishment is Kept by Weichel & Miller. That pluck and unusual business enterprise is appreciated in progressive Scranton is attested by the success following the efforts of Weichel & Miller to maintain a stock of most delicate foreign crockery and glassware—a stock which, from a purely artistic standpoint, is said to be equalled by few, if any, similar stores in New York or Philadelphia.

A few years ago it would have been business suicide for a Scranton firm to attempt to carry an extensive stock of fine ware, but Weichel & Miller are successfully doing this today. A glance over the following list will give a faint idea of the display, but to appreciate it fully a visit should be made to the store, where the management is perfectly willing to show the valuable goods.

FIGHT BETWEEN HUNS

John Mehas, of South Washington Avenue, Baply Wounded.

DIONGSR WAS HIS ASSAILANT

Mehas Had Befriended a Hungurian Woman Whom Diongsr Wanted to Cultivate—An Objection Was Made by Mehas, Which Diongsr Resented in a Desperate Manner—Trouble Caused a Riot in Hungarian Colony.

While the vast audience was pouring out of the gospel tent last night and crowding the sidewalk on Washington avenue, Officers Michael Welch and I. E. Jones were escorting two Hungarians with some difficulty through the crowd, and scores of women screamed, "Look at the blood." The face of one man was thickly coated with the red fluid owing to a general fight on the site in which he had participated.

Arrived at the police station, it was difficult to extract any explanation of the affair, but it appeared that a boarding house keeper of the name of John Mehas, living on South Washington avenue, took compassion on a Hungarian woman Monday night and made her generally comfortable. Last night, however, another Hun, Feather Diongsr, of brutal appearance, became fascinated with the new arrival in the colony and desired to make overtures, out was prevented by Mehas.

Feather retaliated and seeing Mehas alone struck him, it is alleged, with a knife, inflicting a tremendous gash on the top of his head. Blood spurted in every direction, covering his face and clothes, making a most ghastly picture.

When Officers Welch and I. T. Jones were attracted to the spot by the yell they found all the colony in a general riot and had to use their batons to get to the two participants.

The wounded man was dressed by Dr. Fulton, who was of the opinion that the blow had not been inflicted by a knife, but a blunter instrument. He could not, however, account for the reason why his skull had not been fractured. Although severely injured, Diongsr stated that he felt much easier after the doctor's attention.

Pigeon Match. Every Ball park Friday, Sept. 28, a. m. Every one should take a day off and see one of the grandest and hardest fought battles that has been shot for in years. Every shooter feels confident of winning first prize. If you can't come in the morning come in the afternoon, when the excitement is at fever heat. The club has received the following entries since list has been published: Thomas Lewis, Will Spriner, W. Annaman, Robert Wallace, E. H. Whaley, J. D. Mason, Will H. Davis, which makes a total of thirty-seven entries. Score cards giving names of shooters can be bought on the grounds.

Lakers Did Not Appear. Benjamin Cusik, a Hungarian, was arrested Tuesday evening on complaint of Mrs. John Lukens, of Lloyd street, who charged him with attempting to pass a counterfeit $10 bill for United States money. The prosecutor failed to appear at a continued hearing of the case at yesterday afternoon's police court and Cusik was discharged by Alderman Fitzsimmons. Mr. and Mrs. John Lukens were indicted by the last grand jury for keeping a "hole-in-the-wall," and Cusik was one of the witnesses who testified against him. He claims his arrest was occasioned by spite.
